

Mercedes-Benz Classic Online-Teilesuche

Mercedes-Benz Classic Online Parts Search

Mercedes-Benz Classic continually produces parts for classic vehicle series, in order to ensure the long-term availability of a full range of such parts. As a result, some 50,000 genuine parts are always available. To render the availability of these genuine parts transparent to everyone, the Classic Online Parts Search has been established as a swift and simple means of presenting the availability of parts with their valid prices in Germany, promotion parts and newly produced parts in a clearly arranged manner. Once the user has found the part they are looking for, it can be ordered from any authorised Mercedes-Benz service partner, as the Group's own sales and logistics network guarantees the swift supply of a comprehensive scope of parts worldwide. ### 125 Years of Motorsports with Mercedes-Benz – Newsletter Issue 7

Open to alternatives since 1894: an innovative force and an open mind towards what is new have formed part of Mercedes-Benz's motorsports history from the outset. History's first ever automotive competition 125 years ago was already a battle of drive systems. Back then, vehicles featuring Daimler combustion engines prevailed against their steam-powered counterparts that had been dominating up to this point. In the 21st century, the brand with the star is celebrating five consecutive double world championship titles in Formula 1 with hybrid engines. At the end of 2019, the brand will also launch in Formula E. Further information: <http://mb4.me/W1tBF1le>

Four gold awards for Mercedes-Benz at “Auto Bild Klassik” readers’ awards

Mercedes-Benz received the “Goldener Klassiker” (golden classic) award no less than four times on 29 October 2019: Readers of the “Auto Bild Klassik” magazine voted the S-Class series 126, introduced in 1979, in the saloon category, the series R 129 SL, presented in 1989, in the cabriolet and roadster category, and the G-Class, which has been rolling off the production line for the past 40 years, in the cross-country vehicle category, as their favourites. The fourth award in the “Discovery of the year” category went to the spectacular barn find in Florida that uncovered a 1954 300 SL “Gullwing” (W 198). Further information: <http://mb4.me/NEANEzQS>

Cannstatter Hütte at the Mercedes-Benz Museum

Cannstatter Hütte at the Mercedes-Benz Museum opens on 19 November 2019

Since winter 2013/14, the Cannstatter Hütte at the Mercedes-Benz Museum has been delighting guests with its rustic charm. From 19 November 2019 to 19 January 2020, V & K Tailor Made Catering GmbH, the operator of the catering services at the museum, will be continuing this recipe for success. Whilst the building itself and the interior design depict an Alpine scene, the menu offers various Swabian specialities. The selection ranges from cheese noodles and Swabian creamy flatbread to fried winter sausage with regional cabbage or lentils with noodles and frankfurter sausage.

“Konzertive” fundraising concert at the Mercedes-Benz Museum

Young talents play classical music at a high level

The first Konzertive was held in 2010 at the Mercedes-Benz Museum. Right from the outset, its aim was to provide comprehensive support for talented people: young exceptional musicians are given a stage for their high-class performances. At the same time, the event collects money to support other young pupils, with admission and donations all going straight to the Stuttgart Music School's scholarship system. Since its premiere, the Konzertive has raised more than 100,000 euros.

Body variants of the Mercedes-Benz 124 model series

The new executive segment: Mercedes-Benz 124 model series, introduced 35 years ago

As modern as it was 35 years ago: this is the Mercedes-Benz 124 model series. On 26 November 1984 the brand from Stuttgart initially introduced the new saloons (W 124) in Seville (Spain). They were introduced to the market in December of the same year. Its premiere was, at that time, an unprecedented technological leap in engine and body development in the upper executive segment of Mercedes-Benz. Later the estate (1985, S 124), coupé (1987, C 124), saloon with a long wheelbase (1989, V 124), cabriolet (1991, A 124) and chassis for special bodies were to follow.

Mercedes-Benz O 321 HL (1957 to 1964)

Resounding success: Mercedes-Benz O 321 H/HL bus (1954 to 1964)

Its impressive overall design concept made the Mercedes-Benz O 321 H/HL bus — which was unveiled 65 years ago — a resounding success. And the production figures provide solid proof of this: from October 1954 until December 1964, what was then Daimler-Benz AG manufactured a total of 18,083 buses, chassis and ckd parts kits for the O 321 H/HL (“ckd” stands for “completely knocked down”; parts kits for assembly in export countries). The competition — particularly in Europe — simply could not keep pace. The O 321 H/HL also ultimately turned Mercedes-Benz into a leading bus manufacturing company. Racing debut in Formula E with the Mercedes-Benz EQ Silver Arrow 01

125 Years of Mercedes-Benz Motorsport – Newsletter Issue 9

Mercedes-Benz celebrated the great “125 Years of Motorsport” anniversary in 2019. This brilliant year is ending with amazing moments: the Silver Arrows are at the top of the teams' standings in their debut year in Formula E and Mercedes-AMG PETRONAS is celebrating the 6th World Championship double in a row at the end of the Formula 1 season. The memory of the time of the SLC Coupé from the C 107 model series with its victories in long-distance rallies four decades ago is particularly strong.
